CAPE TOWN, Sept 28 (Reuters) - Sudan's national petroleum company Sudapet is working with China's CNPC and Malaysia's Petronas to boost its oil recovery yield by another 1 billion barrels by 2020, a senior Sudapet official said on Tuesday.

"We are looking at new technology to improve the recovery factor so as to reach 30 percent, and that will maximize our reserves by an additional one billion barrels by 2020," Ali Faroug Abbas Shahin, senior vice president told Reuters on the sidelines of an African energy conference.
